

Different Dream Parenting Summary and Interview Questions

One of the primary responsibilities of being a parent is to make sure your children are safe and sound in the world around them. However, when your child struggles with a medical condition or behavioral or educational concerns, the everyday issues of life and parenthood can become overwhelmingly magnified. How do you deal with the challenges of parenting a child who has special needs? Where can you find help to create a loving environment that is productive and secure?

With more than twenty-five years of experience as a teacher and the parent of a special needs child, author Jolene Philo offers you guidance and encouragement. In Different Dream Parenting, you'll find biblical insights and practical resources to strengthen you in your walk with God and equip you for the journey ahead.

Addressing a variety of situations and providing tools to help you work through them, she prepares you to become an extraordinary advocate for your child. Discover how you can move from chaos to calm and experience the joy of being your child's biggest and best supporter.

1. Why did you decide to write a parenting book for the special needs market?
2. What are some practical issues unique to parenting a child with special needs?
3. How can parents become effective advocates for their children? In what settings do parents need to advocate?
4. What can parents do to research their child's condition and available resources?
5. What emotional and spiritual issues are unique to these parents?
6. How can families, friends and professionals help parents deal with their struggles against guilt and grief?
7. What about other children in the family? What resources are available for siblings of a child with special needs?
8. What can family and friends do to provide practical support for parents and kids?
9. What advice do you have for parents looking for resources and support?
10. What can churches and service organizations do to support families?